Brighton Bank's Internet Newsletter

Can you feel it? Fall is just around the corner.

September is one of those months that feels like a little bit of everything, warm afternoons, cooler mornings, busy calendars, football season, and the first hints of changing leaves. Summer may be winding down, but there's still plenty happening around Utah, from community events and local activities to getting back into a more familiar fall routine. It's also a good time to settle in, take a breath, and enjoy the little things that make this time of year special. Whether that means grabbing your favorite fall drink, heading outside for one of Utah's beautiful autumn days, or simply finding a little more time for the people around you, September gives us plenty of reasons to slow down and enjoy the season. And while we're enjoying the change of seasons, there are always a few things worth keeping an eye on financially, too. From everyday money-saving ideas to helpful tools and resources, small choices can add up and make a difference over time. So grab your favorite fall drink and take a few minutes to catch up with us. This month's newsletter includes helpful financial tips, local happenings, and a few updates from Brighton Bank. Here's to a great September, and the start of a great fall!

Make the Most of Fall in Utah

There's no shortage of ways to enjoy September in Utah. As temperatures start to cool down, it's the perfect time to get outside, explore your neighborhood, and take advantage of everything happening close to home.

Whether you're looking for a weekend activity with the family or simply want to enjoy a little more of the season, consider adding a few of these to your fall calendar:

-  Visit a local farmers market for fresh produce and locally made goods
-  Take advantage of the cooler weather with a hike or scenic drive

- 🍁 Check out a fall festival, community celebration, or local farmers market
- 🏈 Catch a high school, college, or professional football game
- 🌲 Take a walk through one of Utah's parks to enjoy the changing scenery
- 🎵 Look for outdoor concerts, live performances, and other local events
- ☕ Find a new local coffee shop or restaurant to try

Fall goes by quickly, so make the most of it! Check your city's community calendar or local parks and recreation website to see what's happening near you this month.

Fall Yard Care Tips from USU Extension

Fall is an important time to give your yard and garden some attention before winter arrives. Utah State University Extension recommends several seasonal tasks, including aerating lawns, completing final mowing and fertilizing, cleaning up garden beds, caring for trees and shrubs, and preparing plants for colder temperatures. A little work this fall can help your yard come back healthier next spring. Click the image to read more and find helpful Utah-specific fall yard care tips.

Prepare Your Home & Yard for Fall

As temperatures begin to cool, September is a great time to prepare your home and yard for the months ahead. From giving your lawn and garden some final attention to checking your home's exterior and preparing for colder weather, a little maintenance now can help protect your property and prevent bigger problems later.
